

MAGDALENA CORTINA

Robert S. McNamara Fellow, Development Economics Research Group, The World Bank
1818 H St NW, Washington, DC.

mcortinat@gmail.com

mcortina@bcentral.cl

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

The World Bank – current position	2023 -
Robert S. McNamara Fellow, Development Economics Research Group
Central Bank of Chile	2021-2023
Research Analyst, Financial Stability Division, Research Department.

EDUCATION

M.Sc.	Adolfo Ibáñez University, Master's in Economics Thesis: "Woman to woman: Female Teaching Assistants as Role Models in Economics" Advisor: Andrea Repetto	Sept 2020
Degree	Adolfo Ibáñez University, bachelor's in economics Minor in private law	Dec 2018

RESEARCH ASSISTANCE EXPERIENCE

-
- 2021: Center for Economics and Policy Research (CEPR), Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez.
 - 2019-2020: GobLab UAI.
 - 2018-2020: School of Business/School of Government, Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez.
Professors:
 - Francisco Parro.
 - Luis Herskovic.
 - 2017: Libertad y Desarrollo, Social Program Intern.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Adolfo Ibáñez University , Santiago, Chile.	2021, first semester
Lecturer , Business School
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• "Data Science for Economics and Business" (Introductory course to Data Science and R programming.)
Adolfo Ibáñez University , Santiago, Chile.	2018 - 2021
Teaching Assistant , Business School
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Introduction to Economics (2021-1; 2018-2; 2018:1)• Microeconomics I (2019-1)

PUBLICATIONS

Cortina, M., & Madeira, C. (2023). Exposures to climate change's physical risks in Chile. Latin American Journal of Central Banking, 4(2), 100090.

SEMINARS AND CONFERENCES

-
- 2023: Canadian Economic Association Annual Conference.
 - 2020:
 - Universidad Diego Portales: "The Value of Women in Economics"
 - School of Politic Science and Public Administration Seminar, Universidad de Talca.
 - School of Government Seminar, Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez.
 - Annual Meeting from the Chilean Economic Association (SECHI): Poster Session.

RESEARCH IN PROGRESS

- “Indebtedness, Gender and Family Structure”, with Carlos Madeira.
- “The impact of violence on childhood development” with Luis Herscovic and Alejandra Abufhele.
- “Are we dying of heat? The impact of Climate Change on Mortality in Chile” with Carlos Madeira
- “The Banking Sector Under Low Interest Rates” with Alejandro Jara and Tomás Gómez.
- “Woman to Woman: Female Teaching Assistants as Role Models in Economics” with Andrea Repetto.

FIELD OF INTEREST

Development economics and its intersection with immigration, gender issues and child development and psychology.

FELLOWSHIPS

The World Bank Robert S. McNamara Fellowships Program (RSMFP) matches aspiring development economics researchers from developing countries with World Bank research economists, creating unique opportunities for the fellows to participate in rigorous policy-relevant research in the World Bank’s Development Economics Vice Presidency (DEC).

OTHER INFORMATION

- Programming: LaTeX, Stata, R, Python (basics).
- Languages: Spanish (native), English (fluent).

EXTRACURRICULAR

2014-2019: Desafío Levantemos Chile

Volunteer in Chilean NGO. Group leader in community interventions.

REFERENCES

Andrea Repetto, Tenured Professor
School of Government
Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile
andrea.repetto@uc.cl

Carlos Madeira, Senior Economist
Research Department, Financial Stability Division
Central Bank of Chile
carlosmadeira2009@u.northwestern.edu

Luis Herskovic, Assistant Professor
School of Government
Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez
luis.herscovic@uai.cl

Sandra Roza, Senior Economist
The World Bank
sandraroza@worldbank.org